Silver and Farm Products---Figures Showing that the Price of One Has Absolutely Nothing to Do with the Other.

Republican Promises Have Been Redeemed and Prosperity Has Already Set in Under the Mckinley Admistration. Market Quotations Tell the Tale.

The stock argument of the advocates of free silver coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, in the last campaign, was that a decrease in the value of silver always caused a corresponding decrease in the price of farm products, and particularly wheat. The following comparisons in the price of wheat and other farm products, and the value of silver in 1896 and 1897, disprove these claims absolutely.

The prices on farm products herein given are taken from the Indianapolis market quotations, and the prices of silver from the general market quotations: INDIANAPOLIS MARKET OFOTATIO figures show plainly that the price of farm products has advance during the last year, while the value of silver has continued to decrease, and proves conclusively that the price of silver has absolutely no effect on the price of wheat and other farm products.

REDUCTION OF FARM MORTGAGES IN THE FOURTH DISTRICT. Another claim of the advocates of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and the cale mity-shrickers in the campaign of 1896, was that on account of the low price of farm products, which they claimed to be due to the depreciation in | ing miners of Daviess, Pike and Gibson the value of silver, a majority of farmers were becoming burdened with debt.

The following figures, taken from the records in the offices of the recorders of the counties comprising the Fourth congressional district, show that the people are paying mortgages a great deal more rapidly than they are giving mort-

The above figures show that the claim of the free silverites concerning the increase of indebtedness on the farms, is as unfounded in fact as the claim that the decrease in the value of silver shows a corresponding decrease in the price of 70 killed.

EXCESS OF RECEIPTS OVER EXPENDITURES.

During the 44 months of the Cleveland administration, from July 1, 1893, to March 1, 1897, only seven months showed a surplus of receipts over expenditures. The aggregate amount was $21,720,014.

Under the McKinley administration, from March 4 to July 1, 1897, the excess of receipts over expenditures amounted to $29,082,847. These figures show that the excess of receipts over expenditures during four months of a Republican administration amounted to $7,362,833, more than was shown during 44 months of a Democratic administration.

The excess of receipts over expenditures, as shown by the treasury report during each of the first four months of the McKinley administration, was as fol-

THE COINAGE OF SILVER DOLLARS. Another argument of the free silver shouters in the campaign of 1896 was and disease of the organs distinctly femi-that the Republican policy, or gold standard, as they termed it, meant the disappearance of the silver dollar. From July 1, 1896, to July 1, 1897, there were coined 21,203,701 standard silver dollars, as follows: July . . . . . . . . . . . . $1,062,000 August . . . . . . . . 2,650,000 September . . . . . . . . 2,700,100 October . . . . . . . . . . . . 2,350,000

On July 28, 1897, silver reached the lowest point in value in its history. On that date silver per ounce was quoted at 57% cents.

Value of silver in standard dollar 44 6-10 cents.

REPUBLICAN PROMISES REDEEMED. The logic of the above figures and the fact that there is a decided improvement in every branch of business, proved conclusively that the Republican policy is right, and that the pledges of the Republican party made during the last campaign are being rapidly redeemed. Republican prosperity has already set in under the McKinley administration, and there is every evidence that we are entering upon an era of better business and general prosperity in this country.

If every voter in the Fourth district will study carefully the above figures and will consult his personal interests, there can be but one conclusion reached in his mind when he enters the election booth on Aug. 10, and that conclusion will be to vote for the man who represents the principles and policies of the Republican party, Major Charles W. Lee.

DOW TAX DECISION.

It Is of Great Importance to Liquor Dealers of Ohio. URBANA, O., Ass. 4. Judge Heiserman of the common pleas court, has rendered a decision of vast importance to liquor dealers of the state. The auditor placed the business of a sales agent of the brewing company on the tax duplicate for the Dow law tax and the county treasurer proceeded to collect. That official was restrained. In passing in a demurrer with suit the judge held that where beer was sold by the company through an agent, the latter could be held for the Dow tax, but where orders were sent to the manufacturer and goods sent directly to the retailer, the tax need not be paid.

Silver and Farm Products---Figures Showing that the Price of One Has Absolutely Nothing to Do with the Other.

Republican Promises Have Been Redeemed and Prosperity Has Already Set in Under the Mckinley Admistration. Market Quotations Tell the Tale.

The stock argument of the advorates of free silver coinage at a ratio of 16 to 1, in the last campaign, was that a decrease in the value of silver always caused a corresponding decrease in the price of farm products, and particularly wheat. the president and party to Isle La M The following comparisons in the price of wheat and other farm products, and the value of silver in 1896 and 1897, disprove these claims absolutely.

These figures show plainly that the price of farm products has advance be during the last year, while the value of silver has continued to decrease, and proves conclusively that the price of silver has absolutely no effect on the price they have been since the strike was in-

REDUCTION OF FARM MORTGAGES IN THE FOURTH DISTRICT. Another claim of the advocates of the free and unlimited coinage of silver, and the cale mity-shriekers in the campaign of 1896, was that on account of the low price of farm products, which they claimed to be due to the depreciation in ing miners of Daviess, Pike and Gibson the value of silver, a majority of farmers were becoming burdened with debt.

The following figures, taken from the records in the offices of the recorders of the counties comprising the Fourth congressional district, show that the people are paying mortgages a great deal more rapidly than they are giving mort-

The mortgages on farms given in the 10 counties for the year ending June 1, 1897, were $980,235, and for the same period the farm mortgages paid off were in sented to some modified control of Greek to carry the mail one trip, without com-

For every dollar of mortgages placed on farms in the Fourth congressional district for the year ending June 1, 1897, there was $1.5616 paid. Reduction of farm mortgages over half a million dollars.

The above figures show that the claim of the free silverites concerning the increase of indebtedness on the farms, is as unfounded in fact as the claim that rytes. The Turks retreated after losing will be in charge of a sworn carrier.

EXCESS OF RECEIPTS OVER EXPENDITURES. During the 44 months of the Cleveland administration, from July 1, 1893, to March 1, 1897, only seven months showed a surplus of receipts over expenditures.

The aggregate amount was $21,720,014. Under the McKinley administration, from March 4 to July 1, 1897, the excess of receipts over expenditures amounted to $29,082,847. These figures show that the excess of receipts over expenditures during four months of a Republican administration amounted to $7,362,833, more than was shown during 44 months of a Democratic administration. The excess of receipts over expenditures, as shown by the treasury report during each of the first four months of the McKinley administration, was as fol-

THE COINAGE OF SILVER DOLLARS.

Another argument of the free silver shouters in the campaign of 1896 was that the Republican policy, or gold standard, as they termed it, meant the disappearance of the silver dollar. From July 1, 1896, to July 1, 1897, there were

On July 28, 1897, silver reached the lowest point in value in its history. On that date silver per ounce was quoted at 57% cents. Value of silver in standard dollar 44 6-10 cents.

REPUBLICAN PROMISES REDEEMED. The logic of the above figures and the fact that there is a decided improvement in every branch of business, proved conclusively that the Republican policy is right, and that the pledges of the Republican party made during the last campaign are being rapidly redeemed. Republican prosperity has already set in under the McKinley administration, and there is every evidence that we are entering upon an era of better business and general prosperity in this country. If every voter in the Fourth district will study carefully the above figures and will consult his personal interests, there can be but one conclusion reached in his mind when he enters the election booth on Aug. 10, and that conclusion will be to vote for the man who represents the principles and policies of the Report of

COUNTY TREASURERS.

Some Confusion as to the Expiration of Their Terms.

For some time it has been a question as to when county treasurers would be required to surrender to their successors. The two years' term for which they were elected in many cases expires within the next two or three mon he but the last legislature with a view of establishing uniformity over the state passed an act whereby the terms of the treasurers elect do not begin until January 1, 1898. It was generally supposed that the present incumbents would hold until that date, but since the constitution fixes the term of the treas urer at two years it seems that their term of office can not be extended beyond that by the legislature. John Walker expired August 1. The county commissioners held that under the new law there was a vacancy in the treasurer's office until January 1, and appointed Henry Rethswich, who was Insure your business and elected county treasurer last fall, to 100,000. C. A. DAY, Ag't. torney-general was granted. The same line of action will doubtless be followed in the other counties of the state.

STORIES DIFFER

Conflicting Accounts of the Death of Wliliam Mauck.

Passe gers and trainmen on the north bound passenger train yesterday morning tell different stories of how William Mauck was killed at Waynesville. One is to the effect that he was sick and had gone on the front steps of the coach to vomit, and being sick and dizzy, fell this morning to North Vernon

Another is that the mail crane struck him on the head as he was standing leaning out from the steps.

W. H. Littrell, a liveryman of Scotts- p ia, Pa., are here on special business. burg, says he saw the man go out and stand on the front end of the coach behind the mail car, and that he saw the mail pouch thrown ou, and that the man seemed to let his mind, as well as himself, follow the mail sack, and so fell

The general impression is, Lowever, that he was siek, and possibly fell from the steps of the car, or was possibly struck by the mail crene while leaning out. It is said, though, that the crane was carefully enamined by the railroad authorities and no trace found indica ting that it struck him. On the other hand a passenger says he saw smatter-the mail crane. The train was running at full speed, about forty miles per hour, and the man was instantly killed, the whole back of his head being torn off, left leg broken below the knee, and he was otherwise ping. bruised up. The man's name was Wi'liam Mauck and his home at Jeffersonville, Ill, where his parents reside, and where he has a wife and children. The man was about 40 years of age. He came to Seymour over the B. & O. S. W. and was bound for Elwood in search of work. The dead body was picked Louis Eckstein. up and taken to Columbus by the same phere that has come with it, and for train that killed him, and placed in the which it is noted. Last night was morgue. Provisions Are Getting Up to Alarming Prices-Excitement Over the Mariana Raid Continues-Description of the Battle-Town Was Thoroughly Plundered by the Insurgents.

Hvvana, Aug. 4,—Spanish soldiers have been guilty of a horrible and cruel act in Pinar del Rio city. Two children, 10 and 12 years old, were murdered for manifesting too much joy over the rereport of a Cuban victory.

Senor Econ Curdo, a clerk in the railway office at that place, was on duty Saturday afternoon, when his two younger sons came to see him. Spanish oldiers were lounging about the place The two children, on learning that the Cubans were victorious in the fight near that city they gave a joyful cry, where upon the infuriated Spaniards entered the office and one of them struck the youngest, Alphonse, with his sword. His elder brother and father attempted to rescue Alphonse, when the Spaniards struck both father and son, killing the atter, instantly. The father was arrested as a rebel spy and sent to prison. The younger brother has since died. The mother is crazed with grief. The father is a known sympathizer with the rebels, but has never lifted his hand to help them.

Situation Growing Daily Worse. At Las Tunas, on the seacoast below Sancti Spirtus, a Cuban detachment upposed to be under Pedro Dominez attacked the railroad communication and tore up the track for nearly half nile. The train came along during the night an I was ditched.

The insurgents rushed into the building and a murderous fight ensued for 10 minutes bleeding bodies of the Spaniards were thrown from the windows. The town was thoroughly plundered, all the stores being looted. It was reported that the Cubans took away over 100 mules laden with goods and merchandise. A force of Spanish troops was sent in pursuit. Either they did not care to go into the close quarters or else they lost the track as nothing has been heard of the insur gents, and the Spanish troops returned
